DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed May 12, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive for the reasons set forth below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by either Bell (WO 0023008).

Claim 1 recites a tissue engineering scaffold comprised of collagen or a collagen-like peptide incorporated within polymeric fibers. Claims 2-3 further defines the collagen-like peptide.

Bell (WO 0023008) disclose cardiovascular prostheses formed from woven biodegradable polymer fibers. These fibers can be made of one or more biopolymers. At page 6, a fiber composed of laminin and type IV collagen is disclosed. At page 7, collagen or combinations of collagen types can be used. Collagen type II is specifically identified as one of types of collagens to be used in the prosthesis. Therefore, collagen type II is disclosed as being incorporated within the fiber. Broadest reasonable interpretation of claim 3 renders a collagen-like peptide comprising amino acids 703-936 to be any peptide containing said amino acid sequence. Human collagen type II is such a peptide. Therefore, the reference anticipates the claims.

Applicants appear to be asserting that the term "within polymeric fibers" must be limited to the definition "incorporated within the fiber matrix". While this definition falls within the scope of the term "within polymeric fibers", broadest reasonable interpretation of the term "within polymeric fibers" includes the fiber of Bell where collagen is found within the fiber. Further, this interpretation is not inconsistent with the specification but merely an alternative. If Applicants desire the claim to be limited to the stated definition, the claims should be amended to reflect the limitation.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 4 is allowed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
